Meet the Scholar

Join us for a chance to meet Dr. Pahl and learn more about applying Behavioral Sciences to Sustainability

Dr. Sabine Pahl
Associate Professor in Psychology at University of Plymouth, UK

Her research focuses on perceptions, attitudes and behaviour change, particularly in the area of environment and sustainability such as marine environments and energy efficiency. Other applied work examines restorative effects of natural environments. This talk is a part of SSHRC-funded cluster on Scaling-up Social Mobilization on climate change with digital tools.
